Sharp Break Follows Early Advance Into New High Ground for Movement. Cotton futures tended yesterday to be reactionary and the local market closed near the low in most options...

Bears could do little with the market during the first three hours. As the opening prices were around the day's best level, or up 29 to 40 points net...

There were several small dips, but prices came quickly after the New York market. Early bull factors included firm Liverpool cables, continued improvement in sterling and a better trade situation.

About nine January notices were in circulation, but they made no impression on prices. The tone was steady to firm during most of the early trading and there was no change until after 1 o'clock.

The market was mostly reactionary, but a similar move in the securities market. In the last half hour all options except January showed a recovery on scattered local orders. Cotton was 45 points lower at 17.65 cents.

NEW ORLEANS MARKET. In the early trading in cotton to-day there was a reaction to the New York market and carried prices well below the level of yesterday's close. Much liquidation occurred in the afternoon...
